Tulips to Holland!!

Van Diemen Quality Bulbs began exporting tulips to Holland in 1997.

Bulbs are exported to Holland from Australia because they can produce quality flowers in the Dutch late Autumn and Winter. This is difficult with Dutch bulbs because tulips do not grow well after being stored for long periods of time.

Bulbs from the Southern Hemisphere grow well at that time because they are in the correct part of their growth cycle and are 6 months fresher (Autumn in Holland is Spring in Australia).

In the Australian Winter, most tulip flowers are produced from bulbs that are imported from Holland.
